2: JACOBS OIL

FOR RHEUMATISM. MARVELOUS EXPERIENCES.

Suffered 30 Years and Cured.

New Bloomfield, Perry Co., Pa.

I wish to inform you of a most miraculous and marvelous circumstance. For more than thirty years I have been affileted with rheumatism, from which I suffered so severely that at times it was impossible for me to get from my home to the office, only a few steps away. I had to resort to the use of morphine to secure rest at night; I spent hundreds of dollars with different physicians and tried every known remedy without deriving any benefit whatever. Five years ago, I was induced to try St. Jacobs Oil, which effected an entire and permanent cure, and I have not been troubled with this dread disease since. Cold nor damp weather does not effect me at all.

Clerk, Courts of Perry County, Pa.

Railroad Man Cured.

Old Colony R. R. Engine House, Braintree, Mass. I have had rheumatism for the past fifteen years. Have had it so badly at times that I have had to get down stairs on my hands and knees; have suffered untold agony; have tried all the medicines advertised to cure rheumatism, without any beneficial results. For the past two years have been growing worse; had almost lost the use of my hands and feet. Had about made up my mind that nothing on earth would cure me. I was strongly advised to try St. Jacobs Oil. I procured a bottle, applied it, and my joints grew supple. After using two bottles I can walk as well as ever. I have regained the use of my hands and feet, am relieved of all pain, and consider myself cured.

I have no hesitation to recommend it to Contracts for the New Cruisers.

WASHINGTON, November 29th.-The Secretary of the Navy to-day accepted the fol-lowing bids for the construction of new Cruisers and gunboats: Cruiser No. 2, the Charleston, Union Iron Works, of San Francisco, at $1,017,500; cruiser No. 3, the at $1,320,000; cruiser No. 3, the Baltimore, Cramp & Sons, of Philadelphia, at $1,320,000; gun-boat No. 2, the Columbia, Iron Works & Dry Dock Company, of Baltimore, at $247,000. In the case of gun-Baltimore, at $247,000. In the case of gunboat No. 1 no decision has yet been reached as between the bid of Reeder & Sons and the bid of Cramp & Sons. Although the Union Iron Works, of San Francisco, put in the lowest bid on cruiser No. 1, the Newark, yet, as the figures exceed the maximum amount fixed in the appropriation bill, the Secretary was unable to accept their bid. He will probably refer the matter to Congress, with a statement of the facts, and recommend that the appropriation for the construction of cruiser No. 1 be increased, or that the Government be auincreased, or that the Government be au-thorized to build the vessel at one of the

A GREAT THING FOR CALIFORNIA. The construction of a modern ship-of-war on the Pacific coast, Mr. Scott thinks, marks the beginning of a new and very important industry in California. The Union Iron Works propose to build a ship that will not only be a credit to the Gov-ernment, but will show Chile, Japan and China that they need not hereafter send to the Clyde for ships of war and repairs the Clyde for ships of war and repairs thereto, but can have their navies built and repaired on the Pacific, thus avoiding the expense of a long journey "around the Horn" from Great Britain. The contractors have figured very closely on the Charleston, and while they are at greater expense for horse for the Poe family in Knox county. There is no longer any doubt that the eight persons were murdered. B. M. Woman's Appeal for Temperance and with a resolution adopted at the recent Minneapolis Convention, an address was issued by the National Women's Christian Temperance Union to "all Knights of Labor, Trades Unions, and other labor organizations." It says the Women's Temperance Union is in sympathy with their labor organizations. The same of ance Union is in sympathy with their methods, as involve co-operation, arbitration and the ballot-box. They rejoice in the broad platform of mutual help which recognizes neither sex, race nor creed, and the elevation to their rightful place of women. They mention with joy their hos-tile attitude toward the saloons, and the vow made by the newly-elected officers of the Knights of Labor at Richmond, Va., when they pledged themselves to be total abstainers throughout their terms of office. The address states that they do not believe that it is over-production so much as under-consumption that grinds the faces of workingmen. The Temperizations in the efforts to secure adequate protection by law for the daughters of the rich and the poor alike from the cruelty of base and cruel men; also, their endeavor to preserve the American Sabbath with its rest and quiet. An appeal is made to the voters to cast their ballots only for such measures and such men as are solemnly committed to the prohibition of every brewery, distillery and dram-shop in the ion. The address is signed by Frances Willard, President, and Caroline B. ell, Corresponding Secretary.

and to invite some analysis of those dis-tinguished qualities which combine to form a character of true greatness, and to produce a career as truly remarkable as that of any living American. Nearness of view is not the most favorable condition under which to form just estimates of the lims direction, and the one which will forever remain the most conspicuous monuter of the splendid energy of the time, was the construction of an overland rail-road. To rightly estimate the magnitude greatness of men; even the great characters of history acquire colossal proportions only when viewed from that distance which brings all the attributes of their greatness to be placed at risk, the physical difficulthorse's progeny carry off some of the big prizes in this country, there will be a great rush to secure all the available animals that the Australians feel disposed to sell."

To the person with whom we are in daily contact, the attributes of power, the elements of strength, the exaltation of their greatness to be piaced at risk, the physical difficulties to be overcome, the mountain barriers to be surmounted, the problems of engineering skill to be solved, the natural elements of strength, the exaltation of character, appear so easy of exercise, that, spanning a continent more than 3,000 miles from becoming every-day occurrences to wide by a railroad was the most gigantic

An possibilities, and, in short, high capabil admirer may become a just critic, but when criticism proceeds from admiration all com-completion of the first overland railroad mendation should be based upon irrefraga-ble facts in the record. Of all arts, just por-enterprise this country has witnessed. flew from a revolving chisel and entered his brain. The doctors say his case was a period of our country's history when the great battle between liberty and slavery was fought, he early arrayed his great enage of his convictions became a potent factor in the grand achievements of that memorable time. Bred to the profession of law, the strong analytical character of his mind led him early to a break wealth and fire arms. That he won both his mind led him early to a broad compre-hension of the foundation principles of must ever be recognized as a heroic entemporizing policies of statutes. With that singular lucidity of mind which has charrights of men, and thus, early in his career, the reached that perfect consonance with the most profound political philosophy which guided the fathers of the republic. In his very earliest writings, messages and

He saw the natural tendency toward absolutism in all governments, under all forms, and as clearly understood the value of that deela-which lays the foundation for the learning ration which accords to men inalienable rights, and the security of these rights to each individual to be the one great office of government. In the earliest history of the Republican party he said: "All governments but ours are founded in grants of ments but ours are founded in grants of distinction. There is a distinguishment to which no popular recognition can add distinction. The selection of a man for an distinction. rights and privileges to the people, grants of right proceeding from the Government. Here in America we have established a Government which receives its grant of authority from the people. We concede all just power of government to proceed from Governor Stanford has successfully en-

He very early and clearly perceived that the great doctrine of inalienable rights in the citizen and the conservation of these rights by the Creator, are experience fitting him for the chief magistracy of this nation, the claim would not be amenable to the charge of over partial panegyric, but rather to the well-sustained and the conservation of these rights by the Government, would never find its proper Government, would never find its proper history reveals one of those brilliant career unfoldment in a nation which tolerated which add lustre to the free institutions of ant recognition, would of themselves destroy slavery. In recalling the personal history of the men of that time, and the ery sentiment. There were those whose anti-slavery principles proceeded from sym-pathy with the debased condition of the lave. To all such the most ready weapon against slavery was reference to the lash, to the slave hovel, and to the embruted conlition of the slave. To the arguments of such, the apparent contentment of the slave with his condition was deemed suffi-cient answer. But there was another and a more powerful class of antagonists to the institution of slavery—those versed in the more profound philosophy of human government and the inexorable logic of eternal principles. These were interested in the establishment of the rights of the slave, because in the maintenance of such rights were involved the rights of all mankind.

To this latter class Governor Stanford be nged. He once said : "While a student I was profoundly in-terested in 'Wayland's Moral Philosophy." Early perceiving that the rights of mer were inalienable, I read Wayland's stric tures upon the enslavement of men, with a deep conviction of the inconsistency of the great foundation of free government with the doctrines by which slavery must be perpetuated. Dr. Weyland said 'If these things be true, when shall we begin to do better?' The justice of the plea found a lodgment in my conscience, and from that noment I became anti-slavery."

An unpopular cause may not hope to find adherents among others than those who are controlled by honest conviction. In the mind of Governor Stanford the cause of the slave was the cause of free government. To his conception the doctrine of the inalienable rights of men was the only barrier to absolutism in government. Among the defenders of slavery were men of as lucid intelligence as this age has produced. They saw clearly the true battle-ground of the conflict, and denounced the great maxims of civil liberty promulgated in the Declaration of Independence as glittering generalities. The issues growing out of the slavery question were, as viewed from the standpoint of the were, as viewed from the standpoint of the higher intelligences, as broad as the entire field of political philosopy covered by the Declaration of Independence and the Con-stitution of the United States. Have the Knights of Labor Overreached Themselves?

[By telegraph to the Record-Union.]
New York, November 29th.—The Tribute past week the revolt within the order of the Knights of Labor has been proceeding with larger results than ever before since the reaction began. The leaders, who have been securing a living in the cause, are very much alarmed, and their action is all the more significant, as former prominent members do not hesitate to denounce Preceding a political campaign in this country, we are afflicted with a crop of political prophets, who spring forth with sometime of the sword was in process of germination, and Governor Stanford possessed the requisite moral and physical courage necessary to the maintenance of a position as a strong advocate of Republican principles. That he belonged to the few who founded the Republican party on this coast will remain forever a most convincing testimonial of the strength of his courage and the perspicacity of his indement. curred because the firm discharged a man it did not desire. Several months ago the Shoeheelers' Union was in excellent standing, while now more than nine hundred of the former 1,100 members are in arrears from $20 to $40 for dues and assessments. Leading members say it can never recover the position. The Knights of Labor decadence is due to the fact that they did not confine their operations to the work that came under their declaration of principles, but tried to reorganize the society according to their own radical notions. The use of the boycott has been the most potent factor to hasten their disintegration.

The comment of the recent partial defeat of the Republican party a measure of rebuke to that party for having chosen the first Republican Governor of the State. He was thus chosen the first Republican Governor of the party because he was himself the embodiment of the great principles which called it into fife, and he remains to-day the most faithful exponent of its best traditions. He administered the government of a great State in a time of war, and proved himself not only equal to administration of the Government of a great State in a time of war, and proved himself not only equal to administration of the Government of higher wisdom. Even mediocre intelligence does not need but the suggestion challenges attention by its very absurdity.

There is no better indication that an individual is a splendid factor in the affairs of men, States, or of nations, than the tendency to attribute all accomplished facts, whether of success or of failure, to the exercise of his influences. The assertion that the recognition of Governor Stanford's abilities to serve the State in a position second only to that of the Chief-Magistracy, on the part of the Republican party, has had something to do with its recent reverses, needs no refutation; still the assertion serves to attract attention to the distinguished citizen whose name is involved, tinguished citizen whose name is involved, to the inauguration of a system of internal

There is talk of a $5,000 purse them more hideous angularity. A Suicide or a Hoax.

Harry Raye observed yesterday morning about 8 o'clock, on the barge Yolo, lying near the foot of J street, a well-worn black coat, and a black felt hat in fair condition, and pinned to the hat was a fragment of note paper, writen upon both sides, which stated that the owner of the coat and hat note paper, writen upon both sides, which stated that the owner of the coat and hat had jumped into the river with suicidal intent. The articles were taken to the station-house, and subsequently Chief Dillman and others dragged the river near the barge with grappling irons, but failed to find the writer of the note. The letter was written in pencil, in a moderately good hand, and apparently with considerable deliberation. The postscript, it will be observed, speaks of poison, while the main portion of the note does not, and thus throws a shade of doubt over the whole smatter. With some few changes in the spelling, the writing was as follows:

If the Board told him to ignore me, they did very wrong. I will refuse to certify Professor Anderson's claim to the City Auditor until I am convinced that I am wrong. DR. JOHN BULL'S Smith's Tonic Syrup. FEVER AND AGUE, Or CHILLS and FEVER,

AND ALL MALARIAL DISEASES. AND ALL MALARIAL DISÉASES.

The proprietor of this celebrated medicine justly claims for it a superiority over all remedies ever offered to the public for the SAFE, CERTAIN, SPREDY and PERMANENT cure of Ague and Fever, or Chills and Fever, whether of short or long standing. He refers to the entire Western and Southern country to bear him testimony to the truth of the assertion that in no case whatever will it fall to cure if the directions are strictly followed and carried out. In a great many cases a single dose has been sufficient for a cure, and whole families have been cured by a single bottle, with a perfect restoration of the general health. It is, however, prudent, and in every case more certain to cure, if its use is continued in smaller doses for a week or two after the disease has been checked, more especially in difficult and long-standing cases. Usually this medicine will not require any aid to keep the bowels in good order. Should the patient, however, require a cathartic medicine, after having taken three or four doses of the Tonic, a single dose of KENT'S VEGETABLE FAMILY PILLS will be sufficient. Use no other.

A BOOM

Is WHAT EVERYBODY IS CRYING FOR, and if the citizens of Sacramento only put their shoulders to the wheel we will have it. Start in by leaving your orders for SHIRTS with me, at 528 J STREET, and instead of employing 10 or 12 girls I could have 40. Don't give your orders to outside agents for Chinese-made SHIRTS, when I make you a better SHIRT for the money, by WHITE HELP, at any time. If you want a $1, $1, 25, $1, 50 or $2 SHIRT, come and order some, and if they are not as good a SHIRT, or as good a fit, you need not pay for them. Remember, every dollar you send out of town unnecessary, puts the BOOM so much further back. Don't forget, but try us.

ECZEMA ERADICATED.

Gentlemen—It is due you to say that I think I am entirely well of eczema after having taken Swift's Specific. I have been troubled with it very little in my face since last spring. At the beginning of cold weather last fall it made a slight appearance, but went away and has never returned. S. S. S. no doubt broke it up; at least it put my system in good condition and I got well. It also benefited my wife greatly in case of sick headache, and made a perfect cure of a breaking out on my little three year old daughter last summer.
